R. J. Neely Elected Cashier.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Deposit Bank, yesterday afternoon, Mr. R. J. Neely was unanimously elected Cashier, the position being made vacant by the death of P. I. McCarthy.

Mr. John McCarthy, a nephew of the late P. I. McCarthy, was elected individual bookkeeper in place of W. E. board, resigned.

Mr. Neely needs no eulogy from us, for he is too well known in this community, however, we will say his selection is a splendid one, and unsolicited by him. He stands high as a successful business man. He is a man of the very highest sense of business honor and integrity and popular with a host of friends. He is a worthy successor to the lamented Cashier, P. I. McCarthy.

Mr. John McCarthy, the new bookkeeper elected, has for a number of years been an efficient clerk at the L. & N. freight office in this city, and possesses all of the qualifications to fill the position he is elected to.

Resolutions.

Resolutions of respect adopted by the President and Board of Directors of the Deposit Bank of Paris on the death of P. I. McCarthy, at a meeting of said Board held at its banking house in the city of Paris, Kentucky, on Monday, May 25, 1908:

"It is with profound sorrow that we record the death of P. I. McCarthy at St. Joseph Hospital in the city of Lexington, Kentucky, on Thursday morning May 21st, 1908.

"For a period of twenty-six years he has been identified with the Deposit Bank of Paris, for the first ten years as a bookkeeper, and for the past sixteen years as Cashier. During all of this period he has been closely identified with all its interests, and as Cashier by his unselfish devotion, his broad and comprehensive knowledge of men and affairs, and his splendid abilities as a financier he has won the confidence of all with whom he came in contact, and has placed this bank upon a firm and solid basis and brought to it the highest success and prosperity:

"Therefore be it resolved by the President and Board of Directors:

"1st. That in the death of P. I. McCarthy this bank has lost a most trusted, faithful and efficient official, and the officers and employees of this bank a true and valued friend, this community an honorable, upright and public spirited citizen, his family a loving husband and devoted father and kind and affectionate brother.

"2nd. Resolved, that we tender to his family our sincere sympathy in their great affliction, and take this method of expressing our high regard and genuine affection for him

"3rd. Therefore be it further resolved that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this bank, and that a copy be sent to his family, and that the newspapers of the city be requested to publish the same.

Well-Known Versailles Man Disappears.

Sebastian Stone, coal dealer and proprietor of the Versailles Bottling Works, and one of the best known men in Versailles, disappeared last Tuesday night and no trace of him had been obtained until Friday night, although his family and friends have been telegraphing over the country and detectives have been working on the case.

Mr. Stone went to Lexington on the 7:15 o'clock interurban car Tuesday evening and was last heard of in that city between 8 and 9 o'clock. Just before leaving Versailles Stone told Hugh Howard, a young man in his employ, that if he (Stone) was not at his office next day to take certain papers from his safe and deliver them to H. A. Schoberth.

Among these papers was a letter from Stone to Schoberth requesting the latter to sell all the (Stone's) property, even his home, pay his debts, and turn over to Stone's wife in cash whatever balance remained. Stone in the letter paid a beautiful tribute to his wife, expressing his love for her, and asked Schoberth to tell her goodbye for him, as he could not do so. Stone did not say where he was going or why he was leaving. He took about $50 with him.

Stone was the trustee of several funds and an examination at the bank shows that every dollar held by him in a fiduciary capacity is on deposit and the accounts perfectly straight. There is no known reason for his leaving. Some of his friends believe his mind became unbalanced. He had worried lately over his business affairs and had acted strangely.

Mr. Schoberth, who is Stone's intimate friend, is positive he is temporarily deranged and that upon his recovery of his mental equilibrium he will return home. Stone is known throughout Kentucky as a leading Knight of Pythias and Red Man. He is past chancellor of Gray Lodge, K. P., of Versailles, and district deputy of that order. At the grand lodge meeting of Red Men in Frankfort recently he was elected grand outer guard. He is 38 years of age and has a wife, who was formerly Miss Mollie Douglas, and one child. Mrs. Stone is prostrated over her husband's disappearance.

A Mule Buries Itself.

One of a team of mules belonging to Sam Harding, while plowing on his farm, near town, suddenly disappeared, the earth giving away beneath him. The negro who was behind the plow and in charge of the team, became frightened and ran to the house. When he returned he found one mule standing where he had left him and the other one buried with only his head above the ground.

It required five hours for four men to dig the animal out. No reason can be given for the sudden giving away of the earth as the field has been in cultivation for years.

Meeting of Richard Hawes Chapter.

The meeting Saturday of the Daughters of the Confederacy in their room in the court house, was one of the most interesting of the year. The attendance was large and the program thoroughly enjoyed.

"Tell Him Not to Come," was the subject of Mrs. Amos Turney, in which she showed the distress experienced by the wife of a Confederate soldier who desired her husband to return to his family. Going to the road she was assured by the commanding officer that he was well and fighting bravely for the South, when she sent him the message above referred to.

Mrs. C. C. Leer read a paper recounting the experiences of her sister, Mrs. Alberta, now a resident of Fayette county. As General Morgan was passing her home on march from Mt. Sterling to Lexington, the horse of one of his soldiers reared up and falling backwards fell on its rider. The man in gray was so badly injured that he was left at the Alberta residence, where he was tenderly cared for. As a result of his injuries he died and was buried. When the war was over Mrs. Alberta ascertained his name and former home, and, having the body exhumed, accompanied it to Georgia, where it was interred in the family burying ground, the soldier being a member of a prominent Southern family.

The need of a home for old women, widows, mothers and sisters of Confederate soldiers was then discussed. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Bedford and Mrs. Steele Marsh, after which the Chapter adjourned.

DEATHS.

—At the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin, on South Main street, at 1:40 o'clock p. m. Friday, Charles H. Martin, aged 17 years, died after an illness of weeks of heart trouble.

Mr. Martin was employed at the Paris Distilling Company's plant and attended the night school of the Paris High Schools. He was an energetic young man and his death was heard with regret by a large circle of friends. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence, services conducted by Rev. George W. Clarke. Interment in the Paris cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Joseph Lancaster, Clelland Bryant, James Grinnel, Estes Henry, Houston Henry and Wallace Clark.

—Aaron Rogers, aged about 101 years, died Friday at his home near Carlisle, after a long illness of infirmities incident to old age. Rogers was an old Federal soldier.

—Mr. Dennis McNamara, Sr., formerly of this city, died at his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., Thursday night.

The deceased is the father of Mrs. Wm. Carpenter, of Millersburg, and Dennis, William and George McNamara. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carpenter left Friday afternoon for Grand Rapids to attend the burial.

—The funeral services of P. I. McCarthy took place Saturday morning from St. Paul's Catholic church in Lexington at 10 o'clock, with requiem high mass, conducted by Rev. Father Barry. The interment was in the Lexington Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. P. Sullivan, A. J. Fee, J. M. Hall, H. J. Santon, Edward Gorey and Prof. Ed. Costello, of this city; James C. Rogers and James M. Roche, of Lexington.

The banks of Paris closed their doors Saturday morning, and the officers and clerks of them attended the funeral. In all, the delegation of friends who attended the funeral from Paris numbered about 200. The floral offering were many and beautiful. "Ave Maria" was sung at the church by Miss Ella Murray, and at the grave the services were confined to the ritual.

Republican Hesitancy.

The Indianapolis News, Independent Republican, says:

"The party governing for twelve years now has seen its high-built and gilded prosperity come down with a crash on the eve of a presidential election; has seen the sacred tariff that it has worshiped coming to its own in such inequalities and injustices as to make dissatisfaction loud and deep. The people have been suffering from high meat prices, high lumber prices, high paper prices; but who shall dare put anything on the free list? Who shall dare reform the steel schedule to stop the plundering of home buyers compared with favored foreigners? Who shall make an end of the preposterous treatment for years of the Philippines for the benefit of the sugar and tobacco monopolies? That also involves the tariff. And a thing that has been the unquenchable light on the altar since the party's birth is not to be touched with hasty or unholy hands. Men must have time to think. Especially so when all this synchronizes with audacious legislation against old and tried supporters—the corporations—and with the time when a new man is to be found for president and—hardest of all—party leader. There is the additional burden. New policies impend. High tariff and corporatism will not longer do. What shall take their place and to what degree and in what shape?"

"It is indeed a most interesting political development that we are witnessing. It is a great party in the air to a certain extent, not knowing just what step to take next. So this unwillingness to act is no mere haughtiness. It is a sign of hesitancy; the halting of a great host that heretofore and thus far has marched without faltering, now surrounded by so many new conditions as to be doubtful of just who are its friends and to be uncertain as to the landscape, not recognizing instinctively what to do at the parting of ways."

The Great Political Thought.

The greatest political thought in the world is that embodied in the declaration of independence, namely, that all men are created equal. This is the basis of popular government, and popular government is spreading. It does not mean that men are, or will be, equal in physical strength, in intellectual ability, in moral character or in wealth—it simply means that God never gave to one human being a natural right that he denied to any other human being, and that in the contemplation of government, all must stand equal before the law. Out of this basic principle all other political principles grow and by it all methods of government and all policies must be measured.

A Terrible Picture.

The President paints a terrible picture of the demoralizing influence of ill-gotten wealth. He pictures the multi-millionaire who has grown rich by immoral means as "the least admirable of all our citizens, a man of whom it has been well said, that his face has grown hard and cruel, while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and whose daughter a foreign princess; whose nominal pleasures are at best those of a tasteless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work is the accumulation and use of power in its most sordid and least elevating form."

And who is this man whom the President pictures? He is the beneficiary of privilege, the child of favoritism in government. And how does he secure privilege and favoritism? By contributing campaign funds to the party which will sell him the right to exploit the country. Which party has been doing this? The Republican party, whose leaders are now comprising to prevent any remedial legislation. These same influences are seeking to dominate the Democratic party, but they find the Democratic masses incorruptible and therefore their effort is frustrated.

Industrial Education.

"American Industries" tells us that the little kingdom of Bavaria, with a population not much greater than that of New York City, has 290 trade schools, giving instruction, night and day, in twenty-eight arts and crafts. In this whole country of 85,000,000 people, there are fewer trade schools than there are in the little German kingdom.

Two-thirds of the convicts in America's prisons are men without a trade or profession. The superintendent of a penal institution, being asked how many of the prisoners had knowledge of a trade, answered: "Absolutely none. If they had they never would have come here."

These two statements, appearing in recent addresses upon the subject of industrial education in the United States, makes a startling commentary upon the progress which a people fond of boasting themselves the most practical in the world have made toward solving a problem which is among the most urgent confronting every industrial country of the world today.

The question of what shall be done to provide the industrial education on which depends the future supply of skilled labor necessary to maintain our country's place in the race for industrial supremacy, is one of those vital questions which concerns every American. It concerns the prosperity of employers and workmen alike, but more than that, it concerns the future welfare of the republic. Upon the course taken by those in whose hands rest the decision of the present time will depend whether the American children of the next generation are to have the advantages of the Bavarian child of today, or whether they are to be left to the conditions which are filling our prisons with convicts who are criminals because they had no other trade.

In deciding what that course shall be the manufacturers of America, united in such organizations as the National Association of Manufacturers, can exert an influence commensurate with the importance of the question to the nation. The educators of the country are already aligned in support of the cause of industrial education.

Told the Truth.

"Send me some money to get me out of this trouble," wrote the Prodigal Son, "and I'll promise to begin all over again." "Yes," muttered the old man, crumpling up the letter in his horny fist. "That's just what I'm afraid you'd do. Didn't expect you to confess it, though."

Women Not Humorous.

Lida Rose McCabe says that women are lacking in humor and that most of them either take a hyper-serious view of life or look at it from an ultra-frivolous standpoint. Women are too highly conventionalized to be able to appreciate humor with the keenness of men from their broader outlook.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days trust in knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Their Reward.

The two men in Kentucky who have during the past few months hit the tobacco growers the hardest blows, are Governor Willson and Judge Burnam, of Richmond, says the Winchester Democrat. Governor Willson's utterances and his official conduct show that he has scant sympathy for the tobacco growers and that he is willing to lend his aid and comfort to the tobacco trust in the contest for supremacy is being waged.

Judge Burnam, as a member of the State Senate, is more responsible than any other man for the defeat of the McChord Bill, which was advocated by the tobacco growers. These are two of the men selected by the Republicans of Kentucky to represent the State as delegates at large in the Chicago Convention. Is that a part of their reward for the hand they have taken in the fight against the tobacco growers of the State?

At Chicago they will meet Senator Aldrich, of New Jersey, who is solely responsible for the failure of Congress
to remove the tax from leaf tobacco, and the meeting between these three who have labored to a common end ought to be a jolly one. This is a good thing for our Republican tobacco growers to smoke in their pipes.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. C. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them to urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that,
even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Tobacco Grower Found Dead.

Newton Hazlett, a tobacco grower, was found dead with two bullets in his body at Jacksonville, a small village in the extreme northeastern part of Shelby county, Friday morning.

It is said that Hazlett was not a member of the tobacco pool, and belonged to the crowd that was opposed to cutting out this year's crop. The Hazletts number a large family connection in that section of the county.

Hazlett's body was found near the home of Walker Duncan, a former constable. A pistol was found in the road beside the body. It is believed that he was met on the road by a band of night riders during the night and shot down after he had refused to accede to the demands of the band not to grow a crop of tobacco. Hazlett was known as a fearless man, and made no effort to conceal the fact that he was not in sympathy with the night rider movement.

"A cold-blooded murderer" is what Dr. Graeme M. Hammond, famous alienist calls Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White. Dr. Hammond is in New York City attending the sessions of the American Neurological Association.

"My opinion of Thaw's mentality has been unchanged since his first trial," Dr. Hammond said. "I believe still that he is sane. Thaw is most certainly not a paranoiac."

"As to the eccentricities of his youth, they may have been partially the result of ignorance. As to the letters he wrote later and his will which was one of the most remarkable documents I have ever seen—well, they might easily be considered the work of a drunken man."

Children's Day.

The large auditorium at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning was crowded to overflowing, many being unable to get in. The occasion was Children's Day. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and the little cherubs in white presented a scene long to be remembered by everyone present.

The songs and recitations of the little folk were well selected and reflected much credit upon the teachers of the two Sunday schools of the Presbyterian churches. Children never did better or looked prettier at any such occasion in this section. They knew their pieces and songs perfectly, everything passed off beautifully. The credit for the success of these beautiful services is bestowed upon Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Mrs. J. S. Malone, Mrs. J. T. Vansant, Miss Nellie Fithian, Miss Mamie Spears and Mrs. Harry Clay.

The Hill-Granger Recital.

The music-loving people who were fortunate enough to hear Mr. Hill and Mr. Granger at Mrs. Wilson's on the evening of the 22d, offer their sincere sympathy and condolence to those who missed it. From beginning to end the program was a delight.

He is difficult to specialize when all is so good, but judging from the enthusiastic applause, Mr. Hill was at his best in "Frühlingszeit," "Roses in June" and "Khalid Ali's Prayer," and Mr. Granger in "Evening Song," "Schumann-Raff, Beethoven's 'Sonata' op. 53 (allegro con brio), and McDowell's 'Fairy Dance.' It has been a long time since Paris has been favored by the presence of such musicians.

Mr. Hill's voice is a rich baritone, full and sweet. Some of his notes remind one of a low deep organ note, then again his voice as soft and delicate as the notes from Gwendolene's "The Little Hageolet." Mr. Hill is especially good in anything that needs a dramatic rendering. In "Eliand" when the Abbot denounced the monk his rendition was very fine. But in "Khalid Ali's Prayer" (by Mr. Granger) both artists appeared at their best.

It would be impossible to express in words the deftness, the distinction, the grace, the power, the pathos and passion that these delightful musicians put into this song. Each seemed to inspire the other.

This was Mr. Granger's first visit to Paris, but he won such a place in our little musical world that he can count on the warmest of welcomes when ever he chooses to claim it.

Only a cultivated musician could appreciate his rendition of "Fenerzauber" by Wagner-Brassin. His technique was marvelous and his control over the pedal a delight. There was never a thunder of noise, but always, at all times each note was as clear and distinct as though the whole rested on the bringing out of that tone.

At the close of the program the audience still clamored for more and while we stood just prior to leaving the two artists were good enough to send us home with the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" ringing in our ears. The open reluctance of the entire audience to leave told of their pleasure better than it could be expressed otherwise.

SUNLAND CHIEF, Bay Stallion, 16 hands high, foaled in 1902; perfectly sound. Sired by Harrison Chief, Jr.

1st dam "Becky," by Westwood 2363.
Harrison Chief, Jr., sired by Harrison Chief. 1st dam by Peavine;
2d dam by Edwin Forrest 49.

Westwood by Blackwood 74, dam Favorite by Abdallah 15.
SUNLAND CHIEF, is the best harness stallion that has been in Kentucky since Harrison Chief. He has fine all-round action and is fast, natural trotter.

In the show ring he has won at Cynthia, Georgetown, Lexington and Paris, Ky., fairs.

At Cynthia last year he defeated ten aged harness stallions, including the Champion of the Blue Grass Fair in 1906 and the Champion of State Fair in 1905.

At Paris Fair in 1907 he won the Aged Harness Stallion Ring and the Sweepstake Roadster Stallion Ring.

SUNLAND CHIEF's pedigree is full of the blood of the great show horses,
Joe Downing, Indian Chief, Peavine, Harrison Chief, and the great mares, Lizzie Peables, Favorite and Lute Boyd.

SUNLAND CHIEF is type of the horse that brings to the breeder and farmer ready money; without much handling. That he will reproduce himself is beyond doubt.

Forest Denmark

153.

This noted sire will make the season
of 1908 at my home, on the Harrod's creek pike, 8 miles from Paris and 4 miles from North Middletown, at

$20 to Insure a Living Colt.

DESCRIPTION.—Forest Denmark is a solid bay, 16 hands high, has great natural style; carries head and tail
high, and is not second to any stallion
in Kentucky as a getter of high-priced saddle and harness horses.

He has always been at the head of the stud at Woodford's Stock Farm, Mt. Sterling, Kentucky. I was able to get him from the fact that my father's brood mares are nearly all by him.

Forest Denmark is the sire of the Chancellor that won sixteen blue tie,
in 1906, also his mate The Cardinal,
which team won, single and double, thirty-eight blue ties in 1907. He has sired three other geldings which sold at an average price of $2,821.

The breeders of Bourbon county have never had, and probably never will have again, the opportunity to breed
to the equal of Forest Denmark at $20.

TERMS.—Money due as soon as colts comes, mare parted with or bred to another horse. Mares from a distance grazed at $3 a month. Every precaution will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but will not be responsible for those that occur.

SEASON 1908

The RIDGE STOCK FAR.

Fee $50 The Season

To Insure a Mare in Foal.

Sam'l Clay,

Paris, - - - Kentucky.

WIGGINS is a horse of attractive conformation, 15 3/4 hands high, full of quality, and with fine feet and legs. In disposition and manners he is perfect. His colts are uniformly good colors and inherit his bold, frictionless way of going. They are generally pure gaited and trot with light shoes and few boots. WIGGINS himself wore a 7-ounce shoe with no boots in front.
He was foaled a trotter, and as a yearling trotted a mile over a three-quarter mile track in 2:33½. He took his record when two years old and won five straight stake races and $4,600 that season. Douglas Thomas, his trainer, says he could have trotted a mile over a good track in 2:12. His colts not only trot fast young, but sell for high prices. He was himself a bold finisher and his colts are like him in this respect. For an out-cross for in-bred mares you can't do better than to breed to WIGGINS, though he nicks well with mares of any breeding. No other stallion at the same age has ever accomplished more than WIGGINS. No other stallion of any age ever had three two-year-olds to beat 2:18 trotting in one year. No other stallion ever had seven trotters in 22.0 list at ten years.

Mapping Airship Harbors.
The mapping of airship harbors is a new duty of the British war office.
The map already made shows chosen hollows in woods, at the foot of sheltering hillsides and in deep gravel pits,
where a balloon in distress may descend quickly and lie protected from gales that may be sweeping over the exposed country.

Kill Him, Anyhow.

It is doubtless perfectly correct, as the international sanitary congress has resolved to call malaria the "mosquito fever," but yellow fever is also a mosquito fever, and what else the mosquito is to blame for perhaps no one can tell.

A VOICE FROM GEORGIA

For the Consideration of Independent Tobacco Growers.

The following poem written by Sidney Lanier in 1870 shows that some of the questions that engage farmers now were old even in that day; and there are still Joneses who have their "private argument." When so many are railing against trusts as the cause of all their ills and against John D.
Rockefeller as the incarnation of the trust spirit, it is interesting to know that the General Education Board in co-operation with the Southern Education Board, has for years been trying through farmers' institutes and other agencies to induce the Southern farmer to diversify his crops and to use better agricultural methods. The funds for this educational campaign for the benefit of Southern farmers have largely been supplied by Mr.
Rockefeller. If farmers would use the practical common sense that Mr.
Rockefeller is willing to pay for having commended to them, they would be less easy picking for trusts and corporations. They would at least make the game more interesting for the corporations. "Jones's" short-sighted grasping has kept the cotton planter in the clutches of the cotton manufacturer, as the independent tobacco planter threatens to keep the tobacco growers in the clutches of the Tobacco Trust.

Jones's Private Argument.

That air same Jones, which lived in

Jones,

He had this p'int about him:

He'd swear with a hundred sighs and groans

That farmers must stop gittin' loans,

And git along without 'em.

That bankers, warehousemen and sich

Was fatt'nin on the planter,

And Tennessy was rotten-rich

A-raisin' meat and corn, all which Draw'd money to Atlanta.

And the only thing (says Jones) to do

Is, eat no meat that's boughten,

But tear up every I O U,

And plant all corn and swear for true

To quit a-raisin' cotton.

Thus spouted Jones (whar folks could hear,

At court and other gatherin's),

And thus kep' spoutin' many a year,

Proclaimin' loudly far and near

Sich fiddlesticks and blatherin's.

But, one all-fired sweatin' day,

It happened I was hoein'

My lower corn-field, which it lay

'Longside the road that runs my way,

Whar I can see what's goin'.

And after 12 o'clock had come

I felt a kinder faggin'.

And laid myself un'neath a plum

To let my dinner settle sum,

When 'long comes Jones's waggin,

And Jones was settin' in it, so,

A-readin' of a paper.

His mules was goin' powerful slow,

Fur he had tied the lines onto

The staple of the scraper.

The mules they stopped about a rod

From me, and went to feedin'

'Longside the road, upon the sod,

But Jones (which he had tuck a tod)

Not knowin' kep' a readin'.

And presently says he, "Hit's true;

That Cissy's head is level.

Thar's one thing farmers all must do,

To keep themselves from goin' tew

Bankruptcy and the devil!

"More corn! More corn! Must plant

less ground,

And mustn't eat what's boughten.

Next year they'll do it—reasonin's

sound;

(And cotton will fetch 'bout a dollar

a pound),

Tharfore, I'll plant all cotton!"

SIDNEY LANIER.

Macon, Georgia, 1870.

everybody. It corrects stomach, liver
